Dear Mrs. Dalke:

It gives us very great pleasure to confirm our telephone conversation of this morning and inform you again that you have been chosen as the lucky winner of the Gold-plated Royal Portable Typewriter.

We will appreciate it if you will allow us to keep the machine on display for a few days, together with your name as the winner.

We shall notify you again of the time of the presentation - at our store - some time during the coming week.

Of one thing we are sure - when you take this machine away with you, you will be the proud owner of not only the finest Portable Typewriter made, but you can proudly count yourself among such distinguished owners of Gold-plated Royal Portables as General Eisenhower, General Marshall and very few other dignitaries.

We are also certain that the machine will give you many years of utmost pleasure and satisfaction.

Please accept our heartiest congratulations and best wishes.

Cordially yours,

FORT PITT TYPEWRITER CO., Inc.

Dear Mrs. Dalke:

Please accept our thanks for allowing us to keep the gold-plated Royal Portable typewriter on display during the past week.

You may now feel free to stop in at our store at your convenience next week to receive the typewriter which you won at the drawing last Saturday.

When you call please ask for Mr. Weiner who will be pleased to present the typewriter to you, free and clear, and without any obligations whatever on your part.

Let us express our congratulations again, and with best regards, we remain

Sincerely yours,

FORT PITT TYPEWRITER CO., Inc.
